If you've already written your book and would like to sell it on pragprog.com, we'd love to hear from you.

Fill out the following form and email it along with your complete manuscript to proposals@pragprog.com. Our author relations team will review your proposal and get back to you within seven to ten days.

About You

Name

Email Address

Bio

Rather than sending us your resume or CV, please tell us about yourself. Had you already written on this topic before you wrote this book? Do you speak publicly on the topic? Have you worked professionally with the technologies and/or related content? Are you active in the communities related to the subject? In short, what is your relationship to the topic?

About Your Book

Title and Subtitle

Overview

Tell us about your book. What are the core technologies/topics you wrote about? Who is the audience for this book? What real-world problems does your book solve for that audience? How did you approach the topic (e.g. building a test application, cookbook style recipes, short exercises, anecdotes from real-life stories, etc.)? And, why are you excited about this particular topic?

Market and Sales Information

Tell us about the potential audience size for your book using metrics like the number of copies already sold, the number of starred projects on GitHub related to the topic, the number of members in an online community or even the number of conference talks on your topic. Also, please tell us where you're currently selling the book and how much you're selling it for.

Promotional Information

Our authors take part in promoting their books, and we'd like to know how you've been promoting your own book so far. Are you active on social media? Do you blog or write other content related to your book's subject? Do you speak at conferences, local meetups or even to a small team at work? What have you been doing to let people know about your book?

Manuscript

Lastly, please attach your full manuscript for review and let us know which single chapter you consider to be the best and/or most representative of the overall work.

Thanks for choosing PragProg as your distribution partner — we can't wait to read your manuscript!
